Pressing agreement:

Regalo EVOO, Inc, promises to press delivered olives as promptly as possible to ensure delivery of the highest quality extra virgin olive oil to our customers. Because of the time and preparation required to accomplish excellent pressing, Regalo will plan to press your olives the morning following delivery unless otherwise agreed in advance.

Mechanical / electrical failure of the olive press or unexpected technician illness or other unavailability may result in a delay in scheduled pressing. If the cause of the delay can be resolved within 24 hours of production interruption, pressing will be resumed as planned. If a pressing delay of more than 24 hours is anticipated Regalo will assist the client in locating alternative pressing venue, although Regalo cannot guarantee the availability of alternative sites due to the limited number of local olive presses, heavy scheduling of those presses, and the frequency of mechanical and electrical issues common to all imported olive presses. Transport of client olives to an alternative press will be the responsibility of the client.

If Regalo cannot press your olives as arranged your deposit and pressing fees will be returned in full. If equipment / pressing failure occurs in the midst of pressing your olives your refund will be prorated based on the amount of olives successfully pressed.

I have read and understand the Pressing Agreement and all of my questions have been answered to my satisfaction.
